Please address each of the questions below in as much detail as possible.

Provide a short description (1-2 paragraphs) of the pollinator supporting initiative or example projects to be considered in this application. Describe the location, size, collaborators, habitat availability, and conservation activities.

How are locations for pollinator-supporting vegetation selected?

Please estimate the percentage of lands you are implementing these conservation measures on compared to total lands managed.

How has the organization demonstrated a lasting, sustainable commitment to pollinators? Preference is given to organizations that have "institutionalized" commitments through third-party agreements, corporate policies, or other documented commitments. *

How is the organization implementing vegetation management practices (e.g., conservation mowing, targeted herbicide use, training etc.) that incorporate the needs of pollinators? Provide three examples. Describe how species are selected if pollinator-friendly plantings are used (e.g. native vs. non-native, number of species, expertise used for seed mix design, etc.) *

Describe any current and/or past research and monitoring efforts at the project site. Include the duration and frequency of monitoring, the focus (plants and/or pollinators), the methods/mechanism, and any partners engaged.

What have your research or monitoring findings demonstrated? Has there been a positive, negative, or neutral impact on plant and pollinator communities? *

Describe how the organization engages the public through education and outreach as well as signage. Include any Pollinator Week activities. *

Describe any other positive impacts of the organization's pollinator initiative for wildlife and people. *

Is there anything else that you would like to share about this project? (optional)
